Congressional.

WASHINGTON, July 1.—Harrison, from the committee on military affairs, reported the house bill providing for the establishment of a branch soldiers' home west of the Mississippi. It was amended by substituting the senate bill for the same purpose, already passed, and it was so calendared and passed.

HOUSE.

WASHINGTON, July 1.—In the house Randall submitted a report of the conference committee on the naval appropriation bill, announcing their inability to agree. The chief items of disagreement were the appropriations for new cruisers and the continuation of the work on double torretted monitors. Randall said "nothing but an instruction from the house would induce the house conferees to yield on these two points, (applause on the democratic side), because they had not that confidence in the public money in order to duplicate them. Besides there was not thrown around these propositions that safeguard in the expenditure of the money which the present circumstances, known to the country warranted, and which should be thrown around the department which is now the subject of investigation. As he said before there was nothing that would induce the present conferees to yield on these terms, and when that vote was given he trusted the house would select some other conferee than him." Applause on the democratic side.

Calhoun said that the question was whether the building of a navy should be delayed another year or whether, after expending millions of dollars on monitors, the works should close. The investigation in the navy department had nothing to do with the cruisers and monitors. Randall admitted that he was right, but asserted it should have its effect on the members in appropriating money for a department where there has been maladministration.

Cookrell, of the committee on military affairs, reported favorably, with amendments, the house bill relieving from the charge of desertion soldiers who served until the expiration of their term and are unimpaired by desertion. The bill, after amendment, passed. As passed it requires that applications for relief provided for shall be made within five years from the passage of the act.

The house bill was passed granting a pension of $50 a month to the widow of Gen. James B. Steadman.

PERFECT PEACE.

Spain and the United States in Perfect Harmony on the Cuban Question.

Spain Has no Thoughts of Selling and This Country Could Not Use the Island.

The Last of a Murderous Crowd Voluntarily Surrenders and Pleads Guilty.

America Does Not Want Cuba.

MADRID, July 1.—In the senate Prime Minister Castilo stated that Spain absolutely had no intention of selling Cuba. In an important interview yesterday between American Minister Foster and Castilo and Senor Elduayen, minister of foreign affairs, the Spanish ministers showed a desire to arrive at an equitable commercial arrangement. Foster assured them that America is animated with amicable views regarding the trade with Cuba and, as far as possible, would feel inclined to meet the views of Spain and Cuba. He declared America had no desire to annex Cuba now or at any future time. The Americans had no wish to assume further political responsibility. He thought, however, that something must be done for Cuba quickly. Mexico was already importing sugar into America free and unless Cuba and the English West Indies secured equal terms he thought their best market was lost.

Dying From a Dog Bite.

PITTSBURGH, July 1.—A young man named John Donaldson, while walking along Ohio street, in Allegheny City, last night, was suddenly attacked with all the symptoms of hydrophobia. He was removed to the central station, where it took five men to hold him. All night he howled and barked like a dog, frothed at the mouth and exhibited a decided aversion to water. This morning Dr. Bates and other physicians said there was no hope, as he had been bitten by a dog supposed to be mad, but no alarm was felt until the symptoms appeared.

CHARLESTON, W. Va., July 1.—Charles Spurlock, who was implicated with the Hill boys in the murder of young Alvin Woods and the serious shooting of Jack Woods, the latter part of May last, appeared in the circuit court this morning and confessed murder in the first degree. LONDON, July 1.—The London correspondent of the Manchester Guardian says: "The conference given favors the reception of England's financial proposals regarding Egypt.
